

An international marketing consulting and training company

DR RAVI S. SHARMA

*Senior Fellow, School of Computer Engineering
Nanyang Technological University (Singapore)*

Dr Ravi Sharma is presently a Senior Fellow at the School of Computer Engineering of Nanyang Technological University in Singapore where his teaching and research interests are in distributed systems. Prior to this he was the Asean Communications Industry Principal at IBM Global Services and before that, Director of the Multimedia Competency Centre of Deutsche Telekom Asia. Ravi has worked in the area of advanced communications technologies for over 15 years and his work has appeared in leading journals, conferences and the broadcast media. He serves as an industry consultant to several clients including the Frost and Sullivan telecommunications practice in the Asia Pacific. Ravi received his PhD in engineering from the University of Waterloo and is a Chartered Engineer (UK) and a Senior Member of the IEEE. Other interests include vedic philosophies and cross-cultural gastronomy.